

Chapter Local Hosts

Benefits to Local Hosts

Develop relationships with successful women business owners who are decision makers for their companies.

Send a strong message about your company's support and commitment to women in business.

Cultivate relationships with influential women in the community through your presence as you greet them upon arrival.

Invite WPO members to experience unique events and learning opportunities that may be organized by your company.

Have an opportunity to share your company's expertise on various topics. Final decision on the topics is up to the chapter members.

Commitment to the WPO Local Chapter

Provide a conference room or comparable meeting space for every monthly chapter meeting. Meetings are confidential, so this should be a private room with A/V capabilities.

Provide refreshments, such as breakfast or a light lunch or dinner.

A representative from your company may welcome chapter members when they arrive. Once the meeting begins, it is confidential and for members only.

A representative from your company may provide a tour of the facility or office if the chapter is interested.

Have access to the WPO chapter mailing list.

Your company may host a recruiting reception for the WPO Chapter and invite both members, clients, and prospective members to attend. This is optional.
